GOVERNOR SIGNS TAX REMISSION BILL ON MONDAY

MEASURE EXPECTED TAKE APPROXIMATELY $3,500,000 YEAR FROM STATE

AUSTIN, July 11.—(P)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today signed a bill returning to all counties half the ad valorem taxes collected within their borders for the state's general fund.

The remissions, which would start in 1941 and extend over a five-year period, are expected to take around $3,500,000 a year from the general fund, which already has an $18,000,000 deficit.

At the time of the bill's passage, legislative opponents contended it would make a general sales tax inevitable. During the recent session, O'Daniel supported without avail a proposed constitutional amendment containing a 2 per cent sales tax.

Action on the general remission proposal cleared the governor's desk of virtually all important legislation except appropriation bills. They must be acted on by tomorrow midnight, and the governor has indicated there may be substantial slashing.

The money returned to the counties could be used for unemployment relief, flood control, soil conservation, lateral road building, reduction of county property tax rates or any other constitutional purpose.

O'Daniel said the principle of remitting taxes was "questionable" but legislators for years had authorized remissions to individual counties and that with a few exceptions one county was about as much entitled to a remission as another.

George Caldwell, former construction superintendent at Louisiana State university, is shown in New Orleans after he was freed on $10,000 bond on a federal charge of diversion of WPA material and labor.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) introduced in the house today a bill to restore the prevailing wage rate on work relief projects.

Elimination of the prevailing wage rate from the 1940 work relief appropriation act caused the hours of some WPA workers to be increased to 130 per month and brought on a widespread strike of skilled WPA workers.

The American Federation of Labor protested elimination of the provision would tend to lower wages generally since its effect would be to make WPA employees work at much lower rates of pay.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(P)—A back-to-work movement by the Workers Security Federation developed today in the widespread walkouts of WPA laborers in protest against the new 130-hour month.

Striking WPA Laborers Urged Return to Work

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(P)—Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) introduced in the house today a bill to restore the prevailing wage rate on work relief projects.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(P)—A back-to-work movement by the Workers Security Federation developed today in the widespread walkouts of WPA laborers in protest against the new 130-hour month.

Officials of the federation, recently organized from local unions of WPA workers and the unemployed, advised those of its members who had quit work to return to their jobs. They urged the men, however, to continue to protest against the hours provision by holding night fast meetings and participating in demonstrations.

J. Clark Waldron, publicity chairman of the federation, estimated 32,000 members had joined in the walkouts, but said their numbers were not known.

FEDERAL AND STATE PROBE IN LOUISIANA WIDENS EACH DAY

FEDERAL PROBES REFUSE FURNISH STATE OFFICIALS WITH THEIR FINDINGS

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—(P)—United States District Attorney Rene A. Viosea announced today activities at the State University had instructed him not to turn over any evidence or information gathered by the federal grand jury here, investigating ramifications of the university scandal, to any state official or to anyone else.

Extreme importance of the grand jury's inquiry into WPA activities at the State University was given with the unexpected arrival here of Roger Bounds, national chief of the division of investigation of the WPA in Washington, D. C.

Two congressional investigators also came into the complex case today. They were Harry S. Barger and Thomas H. Reaves, special investigators of the house appropriations subcommittee investigating WPA affairs.

Last night State Attorney General David M. Ellison announced in Baton Rouge that Murphy had refused his direct telegraphic request for evidence of state law violations uncovered by the federal grand jury.

Viosea announced no reasons for the order. He said it left no loopholes.

The federal grand jury was called here two weeks ago to examine charges against the WPA at Louisiana State University. Three arrests already have been made on information collected, although no indictments have been announced.

Three Men Arrested. The three men arrested were George Caldwell, former superintendent of construction, charged with diversion of WPA material and labor to private purposes; Eugene Barksdale, Caldwell's former assistant, now suspended, and James Caldwell, a WPA foreman at LSU charged with conspiracy to divert WPA labor and materials.

"I would be happy to comply with your request and will keep it under consideration," Murphy told Ellison at present, however, pending further inquiry, it is deemed inadvisable to divulge any information in our possession."

Last Friday Ellison telegraphed Murphy, asking him to send up the grand jury's records asserting Viosea had told him the body had available "considerable information which shows violations of state statutes but not of federal."

COMPROMISE PLAN IN NEUTRALITY BATTLE HAS BEEN SUGGESTED

ADMINISTRATION FORCES AWAITING SHOWDOWN AT TUESDAY SESSION

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(P)—As a compromise in the closely-drawn senate battle over neutrality legislation, a suggestion was put forward in some quarters today to make the controversial subject the first order of business whenever congress reconvenes.

This would assure President Roosevelt prompt consideration it was argued, should international developments cause him to call a special session before January.

Administration forces were silent pending a showdown meeting tomorrow of the senate foreign relations committee. At that time opponents of the administration bill to repeal the arms embargo against warring nations are expected to move no action be taken on neutrality proposals during this congressional session.

The 23-member committee is sharply divided on the issue, and both sides waged a vigorous week-end drive for the support of two uncommitted senators—Gillette (D-Iowa) and George (D-Ga.).

The committee's decision is expected to show whether the legislators can wind up their business in two or three weeks, or whether senate debate will prolong the session into late summer.

Advocates of the existing arms embargo have claimed 34 senators will collaborate to fight the administration program "by every honorable and legitimate means."

Legislation embodying the administration's $3,000,000,000 lending program was ready for introduction in both house and senate. Because it has been stripped of a controversial provision authorizing $500,000,000 in foreign loans.

WITNESS DECLARES BRIDGES WAS GOOD COMMUNIST MEMBER

TESTIMONY COMES AFTER ACCUSED HAD DENIED HAD EVER BEEN COMMUNIST

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—(P)—Harry Bridges was described today as "a very able member of the Communist party," by a witness shortly after Bridges had denied at his deportation hearing that he was, or ever had been, a Communist.

The witness, called by the government, identified himself as Major Laurence A. Milner and said he was a World War veteran and retired officer of the Oregon national guard.

He identified as his an affidavit given in Portland, Ore., September 22, 1937, in which he named Bridges as a communist.

Milner in the affidavit asserted that as a "confidential agent" for the Oregon national guard he associated with communists for more than four years and on several occasions accompanied the west coast CIO leader to party meetings.

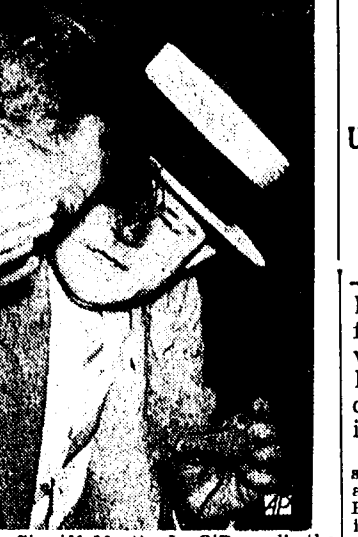

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—(P)—Harry Bridges, west coast CIO labor leader, denied from the witness stand his deportation hearing today that he was, or ever had been, a member of the Communist party.

Bridges, called as the first witness at the hearing opened at the Angel Island immigration station in San Francisco bay, made the denial in answer to direct questions from Thomas Shoemaker, deputy United States commissioner of immigration and chief counsel for the government.

About 100 persons, including Bridges' counsel, government officials and newspaper men, made the boat ride to the immigration bureau station on the northeast side of the bay island.

POLAND GUARANTEE WILL COVER ACTION DANZIG OFFICIALS

UNILATERAL ACTION ORGANIZED BY SURREPTITIOUS METHODS HELD THREAT

LONDON, July 10.—(P)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told Germany in effect today Great Britain would stand firmly by Poland in resisting any Nazi coup to bring Danzig back into the reich.

He made a carefully-worded statement, which had the advance approval of both Poland and France, in the house of commons in an effort to remove any doubts which British or other German leaders might have concerning Britain's position.

Recent occurrences in the free city, the prime minister asserted, had aroused fears that an attempt might be made to change its status by surreptitious action organized by surreptitious methods, and present Poland and other powers with a "fait accompli."

"In such circumstances," he said, "any action taken by Poland to restore the situation would, it is suggested, be represented as an act of aggression on her part and if her action were supported by other powers they would be accused of aiding and abetting her in the use of force."

He then declared such a sequence of events would threaten Poland's independence which Britain is pledged to help maintain. Chamberlain said while the present status of the Free City was "neither basically unjust or illogical, it may be capable of improvement," and added that "it may be that, in a clearer atmosphere, possible improvements could be discussed."

Recent occurrences in Danzig, Chamberlain said, had caused "fears that it is a double-edged sword for involving the rights and liberties of the Danzigers, but will at once raise graver issues affecting Polish existence and independence," Chamberlain said.

He then declared "we have guaranteed to give our assistance to Poland in the case of a clear threat to her independence which she considers it vital to resist with her national forces and we have resolved to carry out this undertaking."

Intended to Dispel Doubts Chamberlain's statement was intended to dispel any doubts in minds of German officials that Britain would stand by her pledge to Poland in the case of Danzig, and it was understood a formal approval of the Danzig question by Germany and France.

Chamberlain's cautious phraseology had a double purpose—to avoid language which Germany might use to advantage in furthering her claims of "enclavement," and to leave open the door to possible negotiations between the Danzig question by Germany and Poland.

The statement was intended to supplement the recent speech of foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, who asserted in strong terms that Britain was determined to resist aggression but omitted specific reference to Danzig.

This was his first detailed statement on Danzig since the present crisis began.

He said the Free City was almost wholly German in population but that its prosperity depended on

BATON ROUGE, La., July 10. (P)—Rebuffed in an attempt to obtain federal reports from a separate inquiry into state affairs, Louisiana officials sought today to unravel more of the fantastically tangled "financial irregularities" at Louisiana State University.

Louisiana Attorney General David M. Ellison last week wired United States Attorney General Frank Murphy at Washington that he understood this federal body had received reports on violations of state laws, and asked these be made accessible to him.

Murphy wired in reply: "Would be happy to comply with your re-

The PWA has received no federal New Orleans expenditures, besides WPA activities, examined on the $1,500,000 Charity Hospital there, for which the PWA made a $3,600,000 grant, alleged 5 per cent deduction of state employees' salaries for political purposes and income tax returns of Dr. James Munroe Smith, resigned president of Louisiana State University.

Last night Eugene Barksdale, acting superintendent of construction at LSU was released under $7,500 bond on the same charge. George Caldwell, resigned superintendent, charged similarly, was at liberty under $10,000 bond.

Other official inquiries included ones into Dr. Smith's financial rein connection with huge market transactions. Attorney General Ellison said Smith attempted to use $984,000 in university bonds in his trading, and actually did use $689,000, as collateral.

Ellison said the name of the former Gov. O. K. Allen, who died in office in January, 1937, clearly had been forged on $118,000 of the bonds, and alleged there had been forgery of another dead man's name on school bonds.

S. GRAND JURY UNEARTHED FEDERAL LAW VIOLATIONS

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH DIVERTING WPA MATERIALS, LABOR TO PRIVATE USE

NEW ORLEANS, July 8. (AP)—Disclosure that a U. S. grand jury has unearthed federal and state law violations in Louisiana sharply emphasized today the turn taken in the investigations set off by a university scandal.

Revelation of the jury's findings came from District Attorney Rene A. Vlosca after a third arrest in the inquiries originally centered on Louisiana State University's former president, Dr. James Monroe Smith, charged with embezzling school funds.

James Marshall, 44-year-old WPA foreman, was arrested last night in Baton Rouge at the request of the WPA several hours after George Caldwell, former university building superintendent, was seized.

Both men, pleading innocent, were charged with diverting WPA materials and labor to private use. The warrants for the charges against Caldwell, the offense occurred in Louisiana, 1938, and that of Caldwell, May 29, 1939.

There were no details in the charges against either man but Caldwell's arrest was the first in a series of arrests involving work on his recently completed $40,000 home in the capital.

Caldwell's private activities included construction of several barns and small buildings at the Covington estate of former Governor Richard W. Leche. The latter has said Caldwell was his check and did not know where he obtained his materials and labor.

Caldwell was dismissed from the University after Gov. Earl K. Long revealed he had been receiving a two per cent commission on all construction at the school.

Marshall was a foreman during the building of the school's agricultural stadium and has been employed by the WPA three years.

Vlosca's disclosure followed an announcement by State Attorney General David M. Ellison, aiding a Baton Rouge grand jury probe into the financial affairs of Dr. Smith and the University, that he had wired U. S. Attorney General Frank Murphy, asking permission to see the federal records.

Ellison told Murphy Vlosca has "available considerable information which shows violations of state statutes but not of federal laws."

The grand jury has been conducting a three-pronged inquiry into Dr. Smith's income tax returns; alleged diversion of WPA labor and materials; and the reported systematic deduction of 8 per cent from state employees' salaries for political purposes.

Dr. Smith, in the capital jail in default of $50,000 bond, has chosen not to leave because of the threat of other charges, including forgery.

Postal Inspectors Interested. SHREVEPORT, La., July 8. (AP)—Three postal inspectors will go to Baton Rouge today to join in the investigations in connection with Louisiana State University or other state matters, it was announced today by J. Fair Hardin, special assistant to the state attorney general.

Conferring with Hardin were L. O. Taylor, Shreveport, F. L. Clampt, Fort Worth, and Roy Cautley, a special assignment man, all veteran inspectors for the post office department.

More Charges Against Smith. NEW ORLEANS, July 8. (AP)—Charles A. Byrne, Orleans parish district attorney, said today Dr. James M. Smith, jailed ex-president of Louisiana State University, would be charged next week with forgery and operating a confidence game.

He and two of his assistants were drafting the charges today.

Amon Carter Was Among Passengers Yankee Clipper

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., July 8. (AP)—Nineteen persons, first to make a commercial trans- atlantic flight over the so-called "northern route," left here today aboard Pan American Airways giant flying boat Yankee Clipper.

Eleven of the passengers were newspaper, magazine, radio or news service executives.

The huge plane left the waters of Long Island Sound at 8:25 a. m. (EST) (7:25 CST) and headed for Southampton.

An "Emergency" passenger on board the clipper was Guido Con of New York, bound for his former home in Florence, Italy, to see his son who is ill with infantile paralysis.

The passenger list included Amon G. Carter, president and publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Carter had been on the initial command flight of the Brazilian and Bermuda clippers.

Carter, attired in a cowboy hat, trousers tucked into ornamental blue, white and brown boots, carried a silver and gold-decorated leather belt as a gift for Ward Price of the London Daily Mail.

Price visited Carter in company with Lord Rothermere in 1928. The belt, Carter emphasized, was made at Fort Worth's Shady Oak farm. He planned to start the return to America in the Yankee clipper taking off from Southampton Wednesday.

The passengers traveled almost 30 miles from midtown New York to the Port Washington base in 35 minutes—thanks to Mayor La Guardia. It developed that Carter had provided the escort with a police motorcycle escort a few months ago and La Guardia repaid the compliment.

Slightly Less Cotton Acreage Than Year Ago

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—The agricultural department reported today cotton in cultivation July 1 totaled 24,943,000 acres, or 99.7 per cent of the acreage in cultivation a year ago.

The conditions of the crop and forecast of the probable production of lint cotton will not be issued until August 8, the department being prevented by law from making public such information prior to the August census.

A year ago the area in cultivation was 25,018,000 acres, an abandonment of 24,480,000 acres, yield 23.8 pounds per acre and total production 11,409,000 bales of 500 pounds each.

The area in cultivation in July and its percentage of the area a year ago by states, includes: Arkansas 2,055,000 and 102; Louisiana 1,531,000 and 101; Oklahoma 1,854,000 and 107; Texas 8,890,000 and 98; New Mexico 99,000 and 102; Arizona 180,000 and 89.

New Scout Executive To Address Lions

Art H. Newton, new scout executive for the Corsicana area of Boy Scouts, who has been recently sent to Corsicana to direct the scouting program in this area, will be the principal speaker at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club at a Boy Scout program meeting.

The meeting will be held at the Navarro Hotel at 12:15 o'clock. As this is the first meeting of the local club in two weeks and President Will Thompson is anxious for a full attendance of Lions Tuesday, the program committee for Tuesday is composed of Boyce Martin and Speedy Adams.

He has in his possession allegedly fraudulent bonds said to have been used by Dr. Smith in stock transactions. He expected to receive additional information from Baton Rouge over the week end.

It will not be necessary to call the grand jury into session to return indictments against Dr. Smith, he said. "I will file district bills of information probably Tuesday or Wednesday in criminal district court."

Byrne and several of his assistants went to Baton Rouge this morning and questioned Dr. Smith, who is held in jail there in lieu of $50,000 bond.

LOCAL HI-WAY CREWS WORK CONTINUOUSLY MAKE HIGHWAYS SAFE

MANY IMPROVEMENTS BENEFIT FIT AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS HAVE BEEN MADE

Months of labor by crews and road machinery are being put in on the highways within Navarro county in an effort to render them safer to the motoring public and to co-operate in the state-wide safety program that has vitified the state and commendation of the entire citizenship of Texas. Local agencies have put forth every effort to reduce the number of hazards, fatalities, and accidents, and as one of the state highway department's slogan is "We are doing everything in our power to get Navarro county off the black list for accidents."

Safety Measures. Included in the numerous safety measures being carried out by the maintenance department are the alternate striping in the center of the slabs to prevent crowding the main black stripe, improving and building up of the ditches, filling in potholes, and putting up ditches, installing reflector buttons on curves, widening the shoulders in numerous instances, etc.

The alternate stripes are 20 feet long adjacent to the main black stripe in the center of the road. A skip of 40 feet is made and then another 20-foot stripe is painted. This procedure is being carried out on all hills and curves on the highways in Navarro county.

All shoulders on Highway 75 south of Corsicana are being widened and the deep ditches are being filled as a safety measure so that if a vehicle is forced off or runs off the pavement, the danger of turning over is lessened. Routine widening and replacing of the down fills and slight grading of the shoulders on Highway 75 north to the Ellis county line is under way.

Grading and drainage structure work is under way on Highway 308 formerly known as a feeder-to-market road extending from Kerns in a southerly direction to intersect Highway 22 east of Eureka and Chambers.

Highway 22. The base of Highway 22 from the end of the concrete pavement east of Eureka to the Trinity river has been completed. It was stated that the highway department plans to construct an asphalt pavement on that section during the summer. Work is expected to start immediately.

Routine shoulder repaving and ditch work on Highway 31 and Highway 22 preparatory for the winter season is also being carried out this summer, although no extensive changes are contemplated.

State Highway maintenance employees point out that the small reflector buttons on the protecting railings and fences on bridges and curves are being installed on Highway 31, Highway 75 and on Highway 22 east of Corsicana. They are placed there for safety of motorists and travelers, and persons apparently residing along the highways, especially children, are requested to persist in their use.

It is believed those responsible do not realize the buttons are placed there for safety measures, and a warning was issued at the regular Tuesday meeting that the regular Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club at a Boy Scout program meeting.

The Navarro county maintenance crew are credited with "practicing what they preach" in the matter of safety, and a warning tonight that the local department was given a banquet here by highway officials for more than 200 days of work without any loss of time due to any accident.

MOLLY O'DANIEL VISITS HERE * * * * * SHORT TIME FRIDAY; GOES TO * * * * * FT. WORTH CORSICANA FRIENDS

By DOLORES WORTHAM Daily Sun Staff

"Oh, I just love to give people my autograph when I think they really want it," said smiling Molly O'Daniel as she motored to Fort Worth late Friday afternoon. With her friend, Mrs. J. W. McGill, and Mrs. Gladys Kinsolving at the wheel, and the writer as a much interested guest in the car. Miss O'Daniel, daughter of Governor W. L. O'Daniel, was en route to Fort Worth to attend the funeral of a friend, stopped at the local bus station for a bite to eat, called Mrs. McGill for a short talk, and during the conversation the motor party was planned.

Molly is an interesting conversationalist, and the life of the party. She is a decided brunette with dark brown curly hair and twinkling brown eyes. For the trip to Fort Worth she wore a crisp summer frock of green and white checked gingham, made with a short coat, and trimmed in white organdy ruffles, a white off-the-face felt hat, topped her daintily.

Says Mike Is Tops. When asked concerning her career, Mike's prospective movie career in Hollywood, Molly waxed eloquent, and said "Mike is one of the handiest boys I ever saw. Why, he has everything, and I am sure he will make good in Hollywood." She added, "I can just see him in pictures now." When he left Austin, he was all dressed up in a brown and yellow sport suit, and never looked better in his life.

Molly said she was looking forward to a lot of fun next Saturday when she is scheduled to christen a boat at Port Arthur.

In discussing interesting experiences of the past year, Molly said she was thrilled over the honor of having Queen of the Eureka Festival at New Braunfels.

She said she had been Duchess on several occasions, and was afraid she would never have the opportunity of being a queen.

Plays Accordion. Molly said that she played the accordion which was a gift to her from her famous father, Governor O'Daniel. She described her accordion as one of the prettiest she had ever seen, being a 120 bass accordion, made in Italy.

She said she liked the best, Fort Worth or Austin, Molly admitted that was the leading question.

Upon entering the city outskirts of Fort Worth, Molly pointed out interesting places connected with their local residence there—her former home, the grocery store where they traded, and the school she attended.

As the party neared the end of its journey, the writer was reluctant to bid good-bye to charming Molly O'Daniel, who proved such a pleasing and likeable personality.

GOVERNOR SIGNED ROAD BOND BILL AS BENEFIT TO COUNTIES

OTHER BILLS PASSED BY RE- CENT SESSION OF LEGISLA- TURE ALSO APPROVED

AUSTIN, July 9. (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's office announced today the chief executive had approved the road bond bill through which Texas counties will receive an estimated $150,000,000 in the next 25 years from the county and road district indebtedness fund.

The governor also approved measures licensing and regulating real estate dealers, tightening up the law against illegal refunding of gasoline taxes, setting up safety requirement for transportation of liquefied petroleum gases and authorizing the board of directors of Texas Technological College to lease campus lands to the Texas national guard armory board.

The road bill, financed by a one-cent portion of the state gasoline tax, authorizes distribution of revenue to counties on a formula basis to be used in paying the debt on locally constructed roads which have become a part of the designated state system and for financing new lateral roads planned by counties and road districts.

Payments to subdivisions, due after Sept. 15 of each year, will be based one-tenth on area, two-tenths on population, one-tenth on motor vehicle registration and four-tenths on lateral road mileage.

Counties are required to use the revenue first to pay principal, interest and sinking fund requirements maturing in the fiscal year for which the money is allotted on bonds, warrants and other obligations issued prior to January 2, 1939, for roads now on the state system.

After payment of these debts counties may elect to spend the balance for purchase of additional right of way, construction of lateral roads, or for other purposes not on the highway system, supplementing federal matching funds for secondary road construction and co-operating with the highway department on federal projects in construction of farm-to-market roads.

The governor also approved a bill by Rep. George Howard authorizing the extension of Houston to extend its limits to include publicly owned or operated airports within 10 miles, including 3,000 feet around the airports.

Governor Vetoes Municipal Bonds. Bill on Friday

AUSTIN, July 8. (AP)—A bill which would have given municipal- ities authority to issue negoti- able bonds to extend water and electric power systems was dead today by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's veto.

In his rejection message yesterday, the governor objected to the bill on grounds it would have made it easier for municipalities to increase debt loads.

Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville, author of the bill and leader of opposition which killed O'Daniel's pension program, termed the veto "unfortunate" and said "the law would have been of great benefit to towns having municipal corporations and would have encouraged municipal ownership of water and light systems."

O'Daniel contended it was "unsound business policy where a city has a debt hanging over a public utility to utilize the revenue from the utility for any other purpose until the debt has been discharged."

"If we could continue, 'open another avenue for unscrupulous bond promoters and material and equipment salesmen to play their trade'."

The governor signed bills exempting tailor shops from the boiler inspection law, revising the inheritance tax law and regulating adoption of supplemental textbooks by the state textbook commission.

GOVERNOR LONG ORDERED FIRST MAJOR DISMISSAL

DR. J. A. SHAW, HEAD OF STATE MINERAL DIVISION ORDERED OUSTED

BATON ROUGE, La., July 8. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long today ordered the first dismissal of a major state official since he became chief executive—Dr. J. A. Shaw, head of the minerals division of the state conservation department.

Dr. Shaw, who holds the important job of drawing up each month the oil allowance which sets the amount each well in the state may produce daily, will be succeeded, Long said, by David McConnell, head of the Shreveport office of the conservation department. Long did not announce the reason for the dismissal.

McConnell is a brother of Mrs. Huey P. Long, widow of the late senator, and of Gilman McConnell, manager of the state conservation department.

Earlier this week the governor ousted the executive in two directions. He dissolved the state publicity bureau established by his predecessor, Richard W. Leche, discharging five of its employees and placing five others in other jobs, and announced that a man and a job if they drew a minimum of $100 per month pay each.

William G. Rankin, conservation commissioner, who was ordered by the governor to discharge Dr. Shaw, said shortly before noon he had just reached his New Orleans office and had not had time yet to act.

"I have no statement to make," he said.

Dr. Shaw was reported out of his office at New Orleans.

Are You Interested In Renting An INSILAGE CUTTER?

Perhaps you want to fill a Trench Silo, but do not want to buy a cutter at this time.

We are in touch with a local person who will purchase a machine and mount it on a trailer so he can move from farm to farm and do custom cutting at a reasonable price, provided enough farmers are interested.

See if any of your neighbors are interested and then get in touch with us at once. Our only interest is to encourage more people to put in silos. This party must know at once and probably ten interested persons would be sufficient to justify him in buying the machine.

PERILOUS JULY

July, the National Safety Council warns us, is a month of danger. The Fourth was the most dangerous day. There were many deaths and injuries caused by the reckless ways in which many people celebrated the holiday.

The Fourth, however, does not carry the full burden of July's follies. In July last year, Safety Council statistics show, there were a dozen accidental deaths every hour. Heat prostrations accounted for many deaths which might have been avoided. Eating wisely, exercising moderately, getting enough regular rest, all help human beings to counteract the effects of excessive summer temperatures.

Well, here is July again, month of vacations, of fine weather for swimming and outings, month of heat and humidity. A little caution and common sense will enable us to avoid many of its dangers, mitigate its discomforts and enjoy its benefits to the full.

VAIN PEACE-SEEKING

Reviewing a volume of Premier Chamberlain's public addresses, called "In Search of Peace," an American writer, Spencer D. Irwin, finds little reason to believe that Chamberlain will find what he seeks. In the present state of the world, with the "Axis powers" functioning not only in Europe but in Asia, with Hitler threatening war over Poland and the desperate Japanese baiting Great Britain, the prime minister's attitude becomes important.

"Startling," says Mr. Irwin, "is the constant revelation that Chamberlain is not concerned with the ends as much as the means. It was all right for Germany to annex Austria, but he didn't like the way Hitler did it. It was perfectly fine for the Sudetenland to go to the Third Reich, but he lost his calm over the threat that Hitler might go in three days ahead of schedule.

"If Chamberlain's words are to be taken at their face value, he is utterly lacking in any comprehension of the nature of the totalitarian governments with which he deals. He ignores—by omissions—the opinions of historians, economists, social scientists and most diplomats, and continues blithely on his way—a road which many think will lead to war quicker than that advocated by his foes whom he pleases to dub 'bloody pacifists'."

Surely a strong and clear-sighted statesman would have dealt more firmly with the Japanese at Tientsin. None of the totalitarians understand tolerance.

A GAMBLING EDUCATOR

The financial operations of the former president of the Louisiana State University, if the charges brought against him are true, look like a blow to higher education. An educator, living continually in the public eye and expected to set an example to youth, must be as much above suspicion as Caesar's wife. He is supposed to have chosen learning rather than wealth or ease, and to live in a "high, lonely tower."

Perhaps it is because this type of character is so well defined, and the vast majority of educators live up to it, that the alleged of teachers were so easily com-

NOISY WORLD
I used to think till man arose
To start his fire and fight his foes.
The world heard little save the breeze
Stirring the leaves upon the trees.
But yesterday I woke at dawn
To find a riot on my lawn.
Flve o' the clock, and overhead
Deep in the east the glow of red
Which heralds the approaching day
And orders sinner night away.
Followed by twittering of bird,
Which at high noon is seldom heard.

Voices that rasped and voices sweet
Chattered the new born day to greet.
Full-uniformed, the pheasant cool
Screamed his delight to all his flock,
While from the tallest maple trees
Came bursts of cardinal min-strelays.

Tenants of every tree and bush,
Sparrow and robin, dove and thrush
Joined in the clamor left and right
As if to put the night to flight.
And pillow deep again my face
Thought I: The world's a noisy place!

CHOOSING SIDES

As two groups of nations seem to be choosing sides for another world struggle, it is important for Americans to be clear as where we stand, and what we propose to do.

A wholesome warning, even if it seems unduly cynical, is given by Dr. Arnold Wolfers, professor of international relations at Yale University.

"The next struggle," he says, "will be fundamentally a struggle of great nations in power politics, not a crusade against Fascism or Communism. The real danger of an international crusade, as we learned tragically in the World War, is that such slogans as 'Make the world safe for democracy' becomes mere instruments serving special interests of some great power or powers.

"Little would be won for the United States if Fascism were defeated only to give way to Bolshevism. 'It is natural either from a realistic or ideological point of view for the United States to aid the European democracies economically, but I hope fervently that we never will be deluded into sending our young people to shed their blood for Europe's power politics.'"

So do we all. Many Americans would put more stress than the professor does upon the free principles of life and government represented in the great democracies, in contrast with the autocracies lined up against them. Also on the apparent fact that the autocrats are forcing the issue and inviting war, while the self-governing nations seem clearly defensive. But if the great war once starts, morals and ideology will doubtless grow confused as they did before, and it will be hard for most of us to avoid rash speech and action.

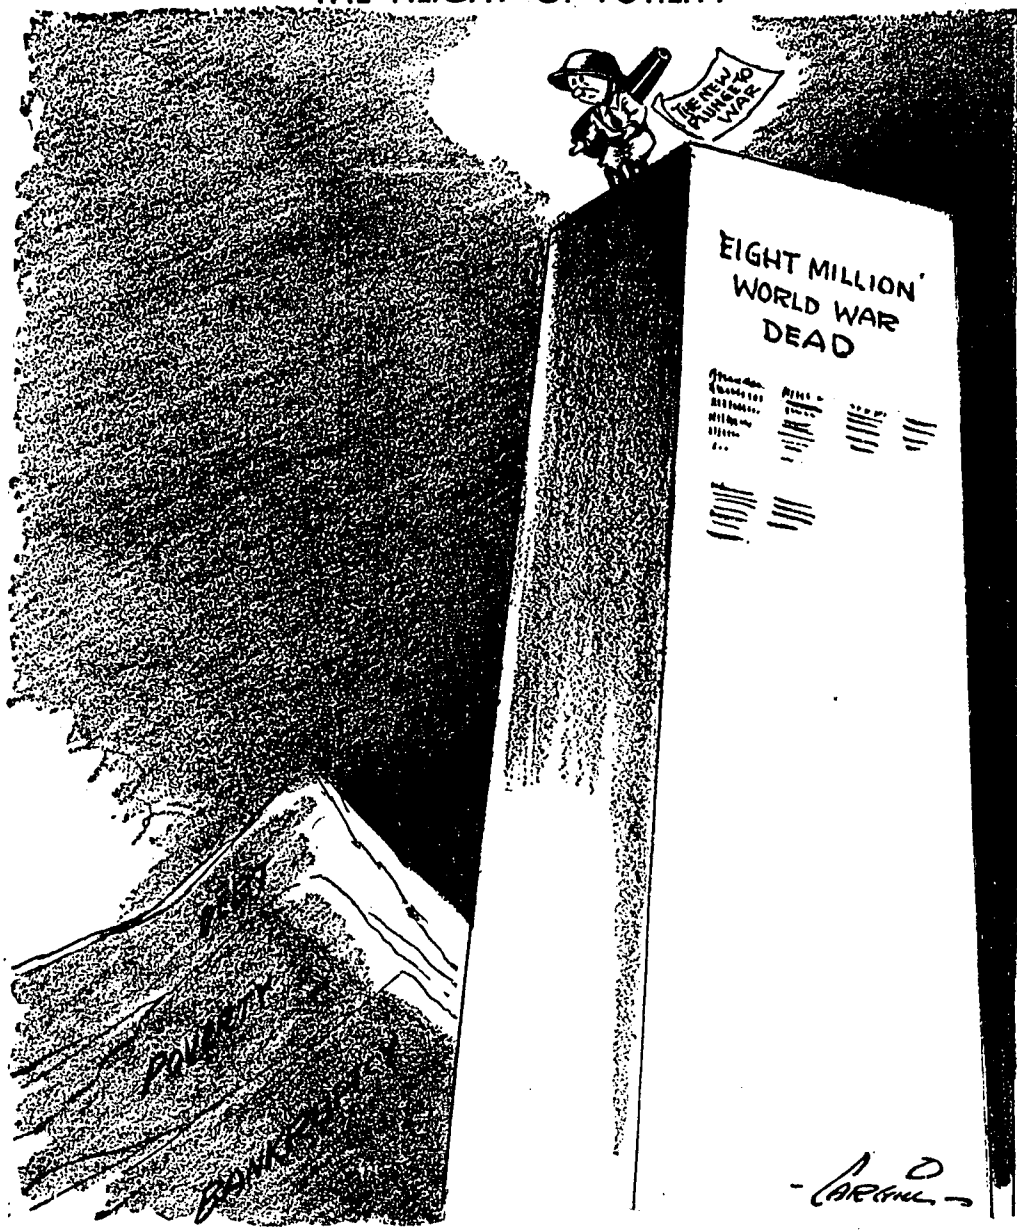

The best time to make issues crystal-clear is now, before the war starts. And they would be clearer than they are if the big democratic powers, Britain and France, would indicate how far they are willing to go in redistribution of territory by the "haves" for the alleviation of the "have nots."

Bankers, although the most suspicious brand of business men, are likely to have their suspicions disarmed when a prominent educator or clergyman is involved. Otherwise it would be hard to account for the ease with which the New Orleans and Baton Rouge bankers parted with $500,000 or more—said to have vanished in the stock market.

There is another curious point. Why is it usually "the stock market" in such cases? Perhaps because it offers the easiest and most respectable form of gambling. At the bottom of it all is Mammon, "the least erected spirit that fell from Heaven."

There seems to be two kinds of wars, "shooting war" and the kind that most of the world is fighting today.

THE HEIGHT OF FUTILITY

GUIDE FOR LEGISLATORS

A moan of distress uttered not long ago by a member of the House of Representatives at Washington is so revealing of one thing wrong with this country today that it deserves wide attention.

"We members of Congress," he said, "are in a vise and we will be crushed whichever way we vote. If we vote for the amendments, the C. I. O. will be after us, and if we vote against them, the A. F. of L. will be after us.

Starting from there the "smart" congressman apparently should vote according to the proportion of C. I. O. and A. F. of L. members among his constituents. But is that where a legislator should start? We think not. His vote should be determined by the general welfare of all his constituents and, in fact, of the whole country. He should ask himself not how this pressure group or that will like his decision, but what are the merits of the question.

If voters demanded honest and disinterested decisions of their elected legislators, instead of special favor and response to selfish but powerful interests, there would be more sound legislation in the annual output of states and nation.

TAKING COLDS SERIOUSLY

Because human beings and chimpanzees are poor "guinea pigs," says a Harvard scientist, there is little progress toward conquest of the common cold. Man and the chimpanzee are the only two species of animals that are reasonably susceptible to that familiar but baffling ailment. And both of them are poor "experimental animals."

It is true that the doctors and research men have learned that it is an extremely prevalent ailment, most people suffering two or three colds a year. It is the cause of more industrial disability than all other causes combined. It contributes to susceptibility to other diseases and increases mortality from them. Doctors are pretty sure now that it is caused by a virus upon which they have not yet been able to put the scientific finger.

They have learned, too, that susceptibility to the common cold may be increased by over-fatigue and reduced by adequate rest. They have found that a cold well started usually runs its course, although rest in bed definitely lessens its ill effects. Prevention is easier than cure.

PAIN, PERPLEXITY, RESIGNATION APPARENT IN COMMEMORATION ANNIVERSARY OF SINO-JAP WAR

TOKYO, July 7.—(AP)—An undecorated of pain, perplexity and resignation ran through quiet services which Japan commemorated today the second anniversary of the war with China. The traditional moment of silence was observed at noon. Solemn services were conducted at all national shrines and Empress Hirohito and Empress Nagako offered prayers at palace shrines for the repose of the souls of the dead.

Premier Baron Kichiro Hiranuma led the entire cabinet to Yasukuni shrine, the "Japanese Arlington," and afterwards relatives of slain soldiers went there quietly for brief devotions. The attitude of the people is one of "it cannot be helped." It implies resignation. It does not mean approval. Many seek eagerly some sign of peace and find none, they plot on, try to forget higher taxes, increased living costs, restrictions on manners and customs, death of sons, fathers, husbands.

The continued Chinese resistance causes perplexity among the Japanese. Since childhood they have heard their army is invincible.

It would be too much to say the army's prestige has been lowered in the eyes of the people. A controlled press tells them of victories or gives explanations. It is explained that Soviet Russia, Great Britain and France are preventing the long-expected Chinese collapse.

The day when friends and relatives and members of the local patriotic association paraded with the China-bound recruit to the station amid sounds of brass bands and crimson and white flags is gone. Now enthusiasm is forced and excitement has given place to weariness.

Relatives who long ago went to cheer the departing hero now get his ashes in a white box. Only once it is believed, did the delivery of ashes provoke a scene—only once did the rigidly controlled emotion burst out. A widow, accompanied by her other children, came to take the box that bore the name of her eldest son. When his name was called she stepped forward. The officer bowed, saluted and handed it to her. She held it in her arms for a moment as though it was an infant. Then her mouth opened in a soundless scream and she threw the box at the officer's head.

REP. MORRIS, WHO HELPED BLOCK CONSTITUTIONAL TAX PLAN, STILL MILITANT OVER THAT SUBJECT

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
AUSTIN, July 10.—(AP)—G. C. Morris, black-haired, 26-year-old leader of the little band of representative which in the recent session of the legislature wrecked the sales tax constitutional amendment, is back in Austin after a visit to homefolks in Greenville. The young veteran in legislative service—he is going on his third term—returned to the capital to work with a joint committee blocking out expenditures of $13,000,000 for rural schools.

Like others among the "famous 66" who battled the constitutional amendment plan unto death for the session, Morris still feels militant on the subject. "And why shouldn't we be?" said he. "The issue isn't settled. The other side doesn't admit the fight is over. But we are not terrified. We know we are right."

"I note with interest and amusement," he said, "that the charge has recently been directed to those members of the house who refused to vote for the constitutional sales tax amendment that their position was promoted by those interested in legalizing sale of liquor by the drink and gambling in all forms."

Morris didn't say it, but most everyone in Texas knows, of course, that allegation in substance was made last Sunday in his radio broadcast by Governor O'Daniel.

"This charge is all the more ridiculous and silly because of the source from which it emanates. This wave of morality as far as legalized gambling is concerned has become a new-born love for those who make such charges."

any attempt to legalize gambling or the sale of liquor by the drink in this state. "If my memory serves me correctly, it has not been many months ago that a certain individual holding a position of high trust in our state government stated he had an opinion on the question of legalizing mutual betting on horse racing."

Held Regrettable.
Morris observed the governor had said in his speech the only way the social security program would be at the next regular session, 18 months hence, with legislators who are "sincere and actually want to solve the problem and don't merely talk about solving it."

"This is regrettable," he commented. "It is an indication the governor intends to insist on a constitutional amendment rather than a statutory tax bill."

"I can only say to the governor or that I hope the members of the legislature at its next regular session will continue the same courageous fight to preserve our constitution and the rights of its people."

"Our social security program will be solved by members who are willing to stand by that which is right and by promises made to their constituents."

Last year a reading of 103 was made on July 4 and the next morning temperature ranged above 100 until it rained on July 8.

FSA IS RECEIVING APPLICATIONS FROM TENANTS AND OTHERS

Joe J. Clonts, Jr., assistant rural supervisor, Farm Security Administration, Corsicana, issued the following statement for publication Friday:

In accordance with the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Act the Farm Security Administration is now receiving applications from farm tenants, farm laborers and sharecroppers. The period for applications to be received will end July 20, 1939. Unless satisfactory farms can be obtained at reasonable agricultural prices, no loans will be made in Navarro county during this fiscal year, and the funds will be made available to other counties where land can be purchased at a reasonable price, that meets the requirements of the Tenant Purchase Program.

Applications are being received at the office of the County Farm Security Administration office, which is located at 214-12 North Main street, Corsicana, Texas, in the Kerr Building.

It is suggested that all farm tenants, farm laborers, and sharecroppers who are interested in submitting an application for consideration under the above farm tenancy law, obtain an application blank and fill it out and submit it to the county rural supervisor not later than July 20th. No assurance can be given at this time as any loans being made under the provision of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act for the reason that instructions have not been issued regarding the appropriation.

NEW PRESIDENT OF TEXAS UNIVERSITY TO QUIT BASEBALL

HOUSTON, July 7.—(AP)—Dr. Homer P. Rainey, new president of the University of Texas, will step out of organized baseball soon. Dr. Rainey, on his graduation from Austin college of Sherman 20 years ago, signed a contract with the Houston Buffs of the Texas league. A crack right-handed hurler, he was traded to Galveston, then coached by the Buffs. That was in 1919. At the end of the season, Dr. Rainey decided to go into educational work. He went on the voluntary retired list of the Buffs and still is in the contract. Fred Ankenmen, president of the Houston Baseball Club, today received a letter from the Texas university president that he would be glad to come to Houston to receive his official release if he receives back pay for 20 years, is reinstated and other Texas league clubs waive on his services. That was in 1919. At the end of the season, Dr. Rainey's retirement will be set in a few days, Ankenmen said.

LIPSTICK TECHNIQUE

To apply lipstick correctly seems to be difficult for many women—they either put on too much, or not enough. It is really a very simple procedure when done as you wish. Now fill in the upper lip carrying the lipstick right out to the corners of the mouth (though if the mouth is large this may be done more lightly). Now roll the upper lip down on the lower lip in the fashion known to all women—I guess instinctively. This will press some of the color into the tiny lines or grooves of the mouth. Then go over the mouth—upper and lower lips—again, being sure to carry the color inside the mouth. Now press off the excess on the little tissue provided for this purpose or on the edge of your facial tissue. Wet the lips; inspect them for any smudges to be repaired—and you are all set.

SELECTED ISSUES MANAGED TO HEAD UPWARD ON MONDAY

MARKET POINTED MODERATELY HIGHER AT OPENING BUT BUYING HUNG BACK

NEW YORK, July 10.—(P)—

While the stock market exhibited considerable rallying indifference today, selected issues managed to tack on modest advances as one time or another.

The market pointed moderately upward at the start but most buyers continued to hang back and gains running to a point or so in the forenoon, were lost in the afternoon before the close.

Deepening commission house gloom was attributed not so much to lack of price trend clues as to dwindling volume.

Other rally was more good news, marketwise, than bad, but the speculative urge was notably unresponsive. The foreign situation displayed little alteration and the latest promises of Prime Minister Chamberlain to defend Poland against Germany failed to excite boardrooms.

Steels got a rebound in particular during a lull in the market. This week's mill operating rate of 11.2 points following the sharp fourth of July let-down, U. S. Steel also announced shipment of 100,000 tons of the local and the play-off series. Interest is increasing in the football races at the present time.

Of course, the weather is conducive to football, baseball, golf and swimming, and is not football weather or season now, but just a bit of gossip that will be

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

The North All-Stars, led by Hap Morse, manager of the Dallas Rebels, downed the favored South All-Stars at San Antonio Saturday night. The South had won three "cream games" in a row over the North. A large crowd of 8,500 witnessed the game.

Home run hitters Saturday included: Levey, (Dallas), North; Fox, Boston Red Sox; Bloodworth, Washington; Johnson, Philadelphia Athletics; Gallagher, St. Louis Browns; McQuinn, St. Louis Browns; Laabs, St. Louis Browns; Trasky, Cleveland; Weatherly, Cleveland; Walker, Chicago White Sox; Ott, New York Giants; J. Moore, New York Giants; Gleason, Chicago Cubs; Root, Chicago Cubs; McCormick, Cincinnati; J. Waldrop, Texarkana; Becker, Philadelphia.

The Yankees are in their worst slump of the season and the Boston Red Sox have hammered them unmercifully in their series. The Yankees have a new lead, but they had better snap out of their present performance if they want to be ahead long.

Home run hitters Sunday included: Mullin, Beaumont; 2; Mueller, Philadelphia Phillies; Simmons, Boston Bees; Mize, St. Louis Cardinals; 2; Hargrave, Tulsa; McCormick, Cincinnati; Myers, Cincinnati; Cronin, Boston Red Sox; Fox, Boston Red Sox; Heath, Boston Red Sox; 2; Trasky, Cleveland; 2; Kuhn, Chicago White Sox; Hayes, Philadelphia Athletics; Nagel, Philadelphia Athletics; Turner, Marshall Field; 2; Henderson, Henderson; Markland, Henderson; Curtwright, Henderson; R. Waldrop, Texarkana.

Corcoran will be the site for a district AAU softball tournament of between 25 and 30 teams within the near future, with the winner to go to the state meet. J. D. Richardson, AAU commissioner and in charge of the local softball play and loops, is now making his plans for this tournament to be started immediately after the conclusion of the present schedule of the local and the play-off series. Interest is increasing in the softball races at the present time.

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 10.—(P)—James Fenimore Cooper gave this village its initial buildup, but it's beginning to look as though General Abner Doubleday will have to take the credit for keeping on the map.

The native was known for years they could count on the fame of Cooper's Leather Stocking Tales to attract the run-of-the-mill tourist trade. It wasn't until 1909, however, that began celebrating the 100th anniversary of Doubleday's invention of baseball they discovered what the General had really done for them.

They've been celebrating the centennial off and on for a couple of months now, and they added to the festivities yesterday with a ball game in which representatives of 41 minor leagues participated.

The "Doubledays," managed by Mike Kelley, president of the Minneapolis club of the American Association, took the game by a score of 9-7.

The opposition, masterminded by Spencer Abbott, now pilot of the Springfield Club of the American Association, was the Detroit Tigers, 4-3 and 6-3.

The Cleveland Indians went on a hitting spree to beat the St. Louis Browns, 14-2 and 5-1.

Jim Yarnon, manager of the Senators, led a hitting attack as the Senators stopped the A's 6-4, in the first game. Ken Chase contributed an effective pitching chore to take the nightcap.

WOMAN WALKS INTO POLICE STATION TO CONFESS TO MURDER

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—(P)—Mrs. Mary Johnson, 25, former circus trapeze artist, walked into a police station, raised her right hand and said "I want to confess a murder."

Detective Lieutenant Aldo Corral, who booked her today on suspicion of murder, said she claimed she was involved in a grocer hold-up-killing at Amarillo, Texas, in 1928.

She was accompanied to the station by her husband, Leslie Johnson, the officer said, and told this story:

"My maiden name was Mary Janzen. I was only 17 at the time and living at Amarillo, Texas. One night I was driving with two young men.

The boys jumped out and tried to hold up a grocer whose name I believe was McCormack. I heard some shots. They said the grocer had pulled a gun.

The next day I read in the newspapers that the grocer died—and that he didn't have a gun.

"The boys threatened me with a knife. I told police, one of the boys was killed during a robbery a few weeks later."

Slaying Recalled
AMARILLO, July 10.—(P)—Officers here are positive Mrs. Mary Johnson, the former Mary Janzen of Amarillo, who has been booked in Los Angeles on suspicion of murder following her confession, refers to the slaying of Harold McCormack, a grocer, who was slain Dec. 3, 1930.

Eye-witnesses to the slaying said two men shot the grocer on the lawn of his home here.

No one ever was convicted in connection with the slaying, but Amarillo officers practically marked the case closed when suspects died.

Bob Underwood, district attorney, said he was not familiar with the case and would require corroboration of the confession and learn more details before requesting the return of Mrs. Johnson.

NAVAL AVIATION CADET STEALS SHOW AT GLIDER MEET

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 10.—(P)—Naval aviation cadet Robert M. Stanley lost his chance to beat Chester Decker for the national glider championship when his ship cracked up, but he gave this American soaring capital show for its annual contests.

Decker, a thundersunder to double the American altitude record early in the meet. Again, he climbed through a hailstorm to triple the same record.

Friday, he pulled himself free from his parachute and watched his prize sailplane flutter to the ground with one wing missing.

Then the Pensacola, Fla., flyer borrowed a plane, took off before a huge last-day crowd yesterday and won a $500 prize by beating the best previous time for a flight to Havana.

Decker, a Glen Rock, N. J., flyer, won his second national title by amassing 3,020 contest points on 12 flights over a total of 1,370 miles during the 14-day meet.

Decker recorded the longest flight of the meet by sailing 233 miles to Atlantic City, N. J., a flight which brought him the Vincent Bendish trophy and $1,000 prize for distance and the Governor A. Harry Moore award for the outstanding flight terminating in New Jersey.

Although Stanley was out of competition by his smashed plane Friday, his point total of 2,320 was good for second place.

Contest officials cleared his record flight of 17,284 feet above point of release (from a towing airplane) an official American altitude record.

Spectators Hiss 'Little Fuehrer' In Switzerland

ZURICH, Switzerland, July 10.—(P)—Courtroom spectators hissed today when Switzerland's imprisoned "Little Fuehrer," Dr. Alfred Zander, appeared before five black-robed judges to face trial with four associates on charges of "attempts against the international security of the Swiss Federation."

Zander's alleged accomplices were Argentine-born Otto Derendinger, 53, said by police to have been Zander's liaison agent with Nazis in Germany; 32-year old Alfred Nikles, said to have been head of what Zander hoped to make his storm troopers; Hans Sutz, identified as administrative assistant to the "Fuehrer," and Zander's brother, Konrad Zander.

Two others charged with spreading Nazi propaganda in Switzerland, 40-year old former insurance agent, Johann Frei, and Walter Oberdorff, a German, did not appear. Court officials said they were in Germany.

Zander, 34, is chief of a Swiss Nazi party patterned on the German model. Swiss police have described it as the largest and best organized of three "Nazi-type" Swiss parties, all of which have been disbanded.

He was arrested last November when Swiss counter-espionage agents said they found he was operating a party "news service," which they called "swaps a disguised espionage ring."

Air Bubbles Will Signal Success In Squalus Salvage

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 10.—(P)—A large number of air bubbles breaking the surface of the Atlantic has been seen as a signal of success this week by a weary crew of navy men 15 miles off this port—a signal that the sunken submarine Squalus finally has been lifted from the ocean floor.

Navy spokesmen said today the bubbles would signify the seven pontoons being used for the raising were performing satisfactorily, blowing out air bubbles as they rose, and that in a matter of minutes three of the pontoons would break the surface.

Only two pontoons remain to be attached to the Squalus and navy officials believe the first lift will be made Wednesday.

At that moment, the Squalus would be dangling 155 feet below the surface of the sea, 85 feet off the bottom, ready to be towed—still under water—four miles toward Portsmouth, his would be the first of three operations designed to get the 100-ton undersea craft into a navy yard dry-dock.

STATE FUNERAL FOR SECRETARY SWANSON IN SENATE CHAMBER

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(P)—The rostrum of the senate chamber was banked with flowers today for the state funeral of Secretary Claude A. Swanson of the navy.

Swanson, who rose from a humble grocery clerkship to the governorship of Virginia, a seat in the senate and, finally, a key place in President Roosevelt's cabinet, died Friday at his Shenandoah mountain camp after a long illness.

Mr. Roosevelt, close friend of Swanson since the Wilson administration, headed the long list of dignitaries accepting invitations to the funeral.

Veteran senate attendants said the rites probably were the state funeral ever held in the chamber for a former senator.

Others have been for senators who died while still members of congress.

Chairs were placed on the senate floor for the President, members of the cabinet, the supreme court, top-ranking army and navy officers, the diplomatic corps, and committees from the senate and house.

After the services, conducted by the senate chaplain, Rev. ZeBarney Phillips, sailors and marines were to escort the casket on a horse-drawn caisson to a special railroad train as 49-gun salutes boomed here and at naval stations elsewhere.

Burial will be at Richmond, Va.

IF PRESIDENT NAMES M'NUTT HEAD FEDERAL SECURITY WORKS IT WILL GIVE HIM 1940 BOOST

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(P)—A strong hint President Roosevelt might announce tomorrow the selection of Paul V. McNutt to head the new federal security administration came today from well-informed officials.

McNutt, for whom friends have conducted an active campaign for the 1940 democratic presidential nomination, called on Mr. Roosevelt today. He declined to discuss the appointment, aside from saying legal technicalities would require him to retain his position as Philippine high commissioner for another month in order to sign official papers.

Stephen Early, a White House secretary, told reporters today he was the fact President Roosevelt invited him to a 15-minute conference at the White House today—the second within five days.

Friends of McNutt, who is retiring as high commissioner to the Philippines, have been boosting him for the democratic nomination if Mr. Roosevelt does not seek a third term. The two men conferred at the White House last Thursday.

Politicians pointed out that if the former Indiana governor should become the $12,000-a-year head of the new security agency, he would have an active part in the Washington scene during the pre-campaign year.

The agency, one of three major government units developed under the reorganization program, includes the social security board, the CCC, the office of education, the National Youth administration, and various other bodies.

While speculation McNutt would receive this or some other federal post spread through congressional quarters, former Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York called on one-time democratic members of congress to help nominate a "sensible democrat" for the presidency.

O'Connor, who was defeated last year after Mr. Roosevelt won his re-election, said in a letter to about 600 former legislators:

"The 'third term' is not the greatest menace—although that will be fatal to our party. Greater still is the danger that one of the radical crowd, now in the saddle, will be supported as a 'successor'."

Phonograph Records
Used In Morals Trial
Of California Couple
LOS ANGELES, July 10.—(P)—The jury trying Evangelist Joseph Jeffers and his wife, Zella, on morals charges listened to phonograph recordings today.

Ernest Zell, deputy district attorney, said he presented the records, from a sound-recording instrument used in detective work, in an effort to refute denials of the couple that they had indulged in improper conversations in their apartment.

Roll said the records were made by district attorney's investigators eavesdropping in an apartment next to one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers.
